

Diversity Fund

Support for Diversity, Equal Opportunity and Anti-Discrimination Initiatives, Measures and Projects

I. Aim

The Diversity Fund provides support for implementing and making visible projects, measures and initiatives at the university that address issues of diversity, equal opportunities and anti-discrimination. It also supports the exchange and networking of actors in the field of diversity/ equal opportunities/ anti-discrimination. Support is provided in the form of funding for materials and staffing resources.

The aim of the Fund is to support students, doctoral candidates and employees in actively participating with their projects in shaping a discrimination-critical and diversity-sensitive university.

II. Target Group

Students, doctoral candidates and employees (working in academia or technology and administration) of the Bauhaus-Universität Weimar as well as student initiatives that deal with topics of diversity/ equal opportunity/ anti-discrimination in the context of actions and projects are eligible to apply. Preference will be given to projects with a clear connection to the university. Individual and group projects are eligible for funding.

Applicants must be enrolled or employed at the university until the end of the funded project.

Joint projects between students and university employees are strongly encouraged.

Challenging personal circumstances and biographical hurdles, such as disability or chronic illness, (parents') social or educational background, child or family care responsibilities, migration background, experience of discrimination, etc., are taken into account when selecting projects.

III. Maximum Funding Amount

- max. 500 euros per project (materials and staffing costs)

Individuals have no legal entitlement to receiving funds from the Diversity Fund. The awarding of funding is subject to availability.

IV. Eligible Topics and Use of Funds

What is eligible for funding?

- Initiatives and projects that deal with topics of equal opportunities, diversity and anti-discrimination.
- Actions and measures to make visible and/or reduce discrimination, disadvantages or barriers at the university are preferentially funded.
- Fees for lectures and workshops by invited speakers.
- Implementation of diversity-sensitive teaching and services.

Only costs for materials and staffing that are directly related to the implementation of the proposed project/initiative can be reimbursed.

Funding for projects and initiatives that have expired or already taken place (i.e. retroactive funding) is not possible.

The following are not eligible for funding:

- Partial staff positions (except student assistants and research assistants)
- Hospitality costs / daily allowances
- Teaching or workspace equipment or material resources that are included in the standard equipment
- Acquisition costs and rental fees for technical equipment that is available to be borrowed from the university¹
- Acquisition of software and licences that are available at the university²
- Acquisition of literature that is available at the university or can be acquired from the University Library through an acquisition proposal³

If applicable, be sure to include with your application why it is not possible for you to use the university's existing resources for your project.

¹ Please contact the respective faculties for information on borrowing technical equipment:

Further limitations:

The »Diversity Fund« is open to all diversity topics. With regard to the dimension of gender, it only supports projects, initiatives and measures that deal with issues of gender diversity or consider gender from an intersectional perspective. If applicable, the intersectional dimension of the project must be explained in the brief description of the project.

Projects, initiatives and measures that deal exclusively with women or equality between women and men cannot be funded by the »Diversity Fund«. For these projects, it is possible to apply to the Equal Opportunity Office's »Women's Promotion Fund«.

V. Application Deadline

There are typically two application deadlines a year: 21 May and 21 November.

Applications submitted after the deadline will not be processed.

Incomplete applications submitted by the deadline will not be processed. Missing documents may be submitted up until the deadline.

VI. Application Documents

- A filled-out online application form
- Title and brief description of the project (max. 1000 words), including information on the future continuation of the project after completion (e.g. integration and continuation in existing projects or structures)
- On an additional page: where applicable, an explanation of your personal circumstances and biographical hurdles such as caring for a child or relative, a disability or chronic illness, your (parents') social or educational background, migration background, experience of discrimination, etc.
- Financial plan: proposed use of funding broken down into an itemised list
- Project implementation timeline
- For Students: Proof of student status; For doctoral candidates: Proof of acceptance as a doctoral candidate

Additional application documents (project presentation, financial plan, etc.) must be uploaded as a single PDF file to the online application platform.

We value sustainability and climate justice. Please take this into account when planning your projects and initiatives (materials, transportation, etc.).

VII. Applicant Requirements

- Applicants must check for the possibility of receiving project funding through the »Women's Promotion Fund«, »Congress Expense Fund«, »Kreativfonds«, or the publication funds of the Equal Opportunity Office or the University Library.
- Applicants must state in their application if they have applied for or been approved for funding elsewhere.
- A 1-2 page written report must be submitted within two months after the project has been completed (diversitaet@uni-weimar.de).
- Applicants must settle all costs with the Diversity Department within 6 months after the project ends.
- Any expenditures that do not correspond to the purpose applied for may result in funding being retroactively revoked. Funding may be reclaimed in these cases. Reallocation of requested funding for the project is possible; to do so requires the submission of an informal reallocation application (to be sent to: diversitaet@uni-weimar.de), which must be approved by the Awarding Committee before funds are spent.

Reference must be made to Diversity Fund support in all (university) publicity information and communication concerning the funded project. You will be given the Diversity Fund logo to use for anything published (online).

Projects are presented on the Diversity Department's website.

VIII. Awarding Committee

The Diversity Advisory Committee acts as the awarding committee.

Please contact the Diversity Department for any application questions.
