5. Award procedure

All applications submitted by the deadline are reviewed by the Equal Opportunity Officer and Equal Opportunity Advisory Board. Together they select projects and recommend funding, for which approval from the Presidium has to be required. All applicants are notified of the decision in writing.

The quality of the project as well as the relevance for the academic and artistic career of the applicants are important criteria. Furthermore, selection criteria include the project's timelines, socio-political relevance, contributions to university life or policy, potential impact on other students' work or on life in the greater Weimar area. In addition to performance-based criteria, social factors (e.g., care obligations) will be considered as well.

Moreover, the following formal selection-criteria apply:

- Late applications will not be considered.
- Incomplete applications will not be considered; however, applicants may submit missing parts before the deadline expires.
- Already completed projects/project parts do not qualify for funding, i.e., applicants can only be reimbursed for project costs that incur after the application deadline.
- To be able to support as many women as possible, the jury will prioritize applications from women who have not yet received funding from the Frauenförderfonds in the past. Nevertheless, women who have already received funding from the Frauenförderfonds may apply.

6. Disclosure and reporting

The funded projects are announced publicly to the university community.

A final report must be submitted (presentation and significance of the project, assessment of implementation, opportunity for feedback).
