URBAN SKETCHERS
Urban sketchers is a blog site that features sketches and often equally colorful stories behind the scenes by 100 invited artists correspondents in more than 30 countries around the world. Some are architects and illustrators, others are graphic designers, web developers, painters or educators, all sharing the same passion for drawing on location.

Volunteers also manage more than 30 regional blogs in cities and countries around the world and many of those also have their own sister flickr groups and Facebook pages to help sketchers showcase their work and connect with each other.
Mission

Urban Sketchers started online as a flickr group in 2007 and later became a nonprofit organization. Mission as a nonprofit is to raise the artistic, storytelling and educational value of location drawing, promoting its practice and connecting people around the world who draw on location where they live and travel. We aim to show the world, one drawing at a time.
"Drawing a city isn't just capturing it on paper, it's really about getting to know it, to feel it, to make it your own,"

Manifest

- We draw on location, indoors or out, capturing what we see from direct observation.
- Our drawings tell the story of our surroundings, the places we live and where we travel.
- Our drawings are a record of time and place.
- We are truthful to the scenes we witness.
- We use any kind of media and cherish our individual styles.
- We support each other and draw together.
- We share our drawings online.
- We show the world, one drawing at a time.
This app is an artistic guide tool that's map-based. It can be used as an archive of artists, sketches, and information about the places.

Users can use this tool to plan their routes or stations with random pictures.

Everyone who is interested can find information about upcoming events or Workshops.
USk Members can log in and upload new sketches (or edit old ones) and add personal opinion about the place, why it was important to sketch, or why they choose that place or situation to sketch.
