First Week

Ready made poetry using twitter requires to less creativity from my part. turned out boring and uninteresting.

remember me?
The little princess

I'm sad today
calm and serene

Second Week

Visual poetry or poetry + images mostly just one of the two mediums is needed(poetry or plastic). Sometimes both work good together, but that does not happen very often and trying to force it leads to bad results.

Third Week

Translation from painting to architecture

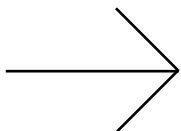

references: dubuffet and mondrian constructions...well done, but not very poetic

Now

Poetic Architecture/ Architecture Automatique

references: hundertwassser and specially the greek/austrian painter-writer-architect Efthymios Warlamis

I started to do it in 3d but it was taking too much of my time and i think is more important to focus on the drawings for now.
