Opinion : The apps is very elegantly designed. It provides very descriptive information about various locations and its historical background. Even though it does not have too many functions , it serves as a very good guide to any tourist who uses it. It has all the basic functionalities that are important for any tourist visiting Weimar. The map interface is very well implemented and easy to use. The images provided by the app are also detailed.
Overall it is a very good, simple and elegant app.

I really liked the map interface of the app, and I would surely use it in my prototype as it provides information to the tourist in spatial context and navigation instructions. I also liked the timeline with important historical dates and description, it is a pretty neat idea and shows how everything evolved over the time, I would surely like to use it.
