

Tumbleweed in Game

Don't starve

Don't starve WIKI

“IT COULD CONTAIN MANY THINGS.”

—WX-78

A Tumbleweed is a form of flora found in the Reign of Giants DLC. They spawn from an invisible spawner in the Desert biome and can be found tumbling around, often in groups; they may also tumble from a Desert into nearby biomes. Catcoons can also spit up Tumbleweeds. When the player is near a Tumbleweed, it will make a musical sound.

Tumbleweed

Tool Required	None
Resources	See below
Renewable?	Yes
Common Biomes	Desert
Code	"tumbleweed"

The player can harvest a Tumbleweed to get 3 random items generated on the ground. If the generated item is a non-passive Mob, it will attack the player character. Each item is generated independently, therefore it is possible to get more than one of an item from a single Tumbleweed. Possible items include Gems and other previously non-renewable items, making them renewable. Food items gathered from Tumbleweed have full freshness.

It's a bit cute, but also more dangerous

In real world

Grand DM @Grand_DM · 2017年11月25日

Tumbleweed Druids were once common in the #weirdwest but evil winds chased them away. If you're lucky...you may find one on the old trails. #dnd #rpg #tabletop

The same kind of cute

https://twitter.com/Grand_DM/status/934439566286651392

In real world

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dATZsuPdOnM>

Flammable

In real world

Attack of the giant tumbleweed: California town swamped in invasion

Heavy winds sent thousands of tumbleweeds into Victorville, blanketing yards and piling up outside homes

▲ One person was trapped for two hours until work crews could remove the tumbleweed. Photograph: Lena Howland/AP

<https://www.theguardian.com/us-news/2018/apr/18/attack-of-the-giant-tumbleweed-california-town-swamped-in-invasion>

When some relatively large objects appear on our streets, what kind of effect will a foreign object interfere with people's daily life on a street?

What will they (Tumbleweed) find in the street?

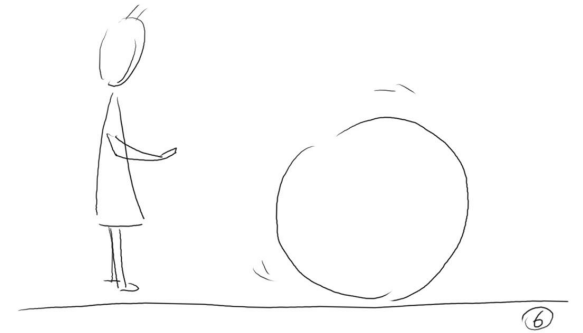

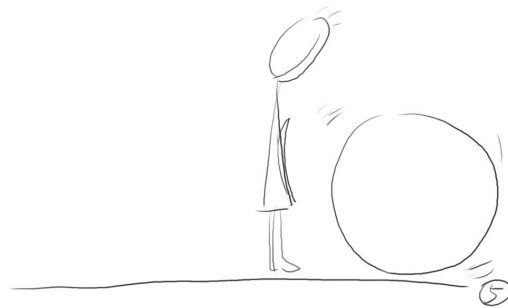

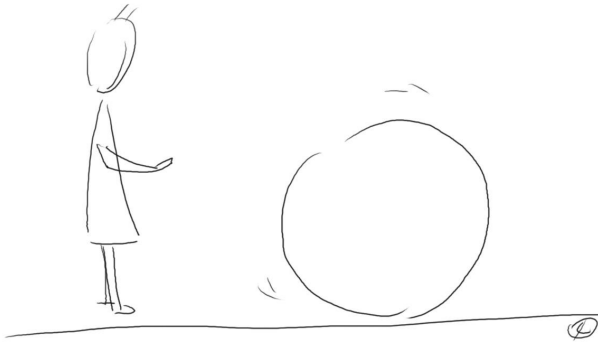

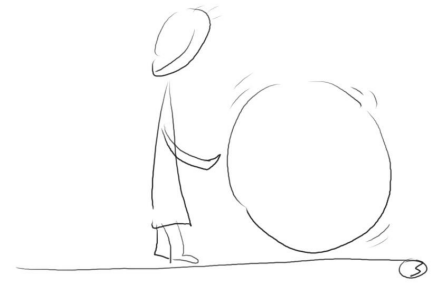

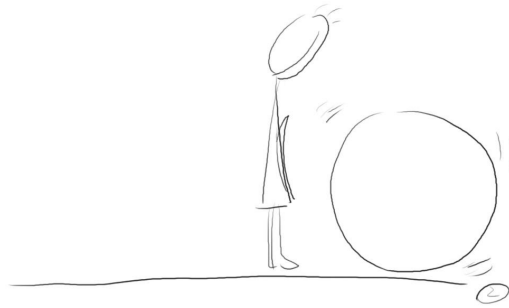

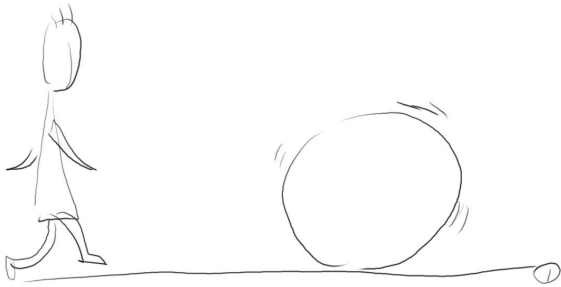

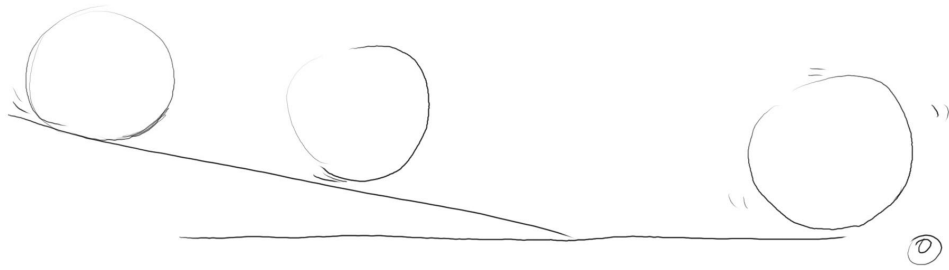

Tumble ball

They are light enough to tumble

They are looking for sth. (to find water, find light or a dark place)

Sometimes they come together (sticky) and rest like real tumbleweeds

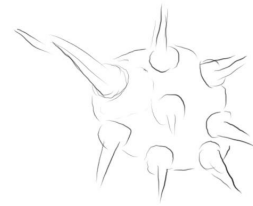

Normally the tumbleweed will move freely, but when humans want to touch it, it will roll in the opposite direction

How can it tumble

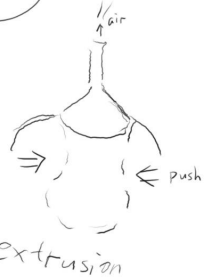

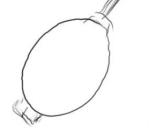

①

Jet forward

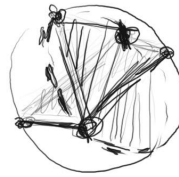

rubber tube

extrusion

②

wind

风车

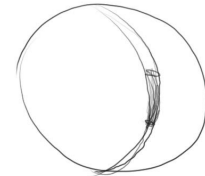

③

heavy object

重物

电动机

④

fan

rubber band makes it spin

Motor

